

Take Control of Your Internet Presence Today

*Take a Short Cut to the Front of the Line
Get new customers every day*

These days when a customer is looking for a local business, the first thing they do is reach for their computers or cell phones. Google and Yahoo give the customer a list of local businesses that fit the search. If you appear on this list it gives a business tremendous opportunity to promote your business with reviews, photos and video.

A Local Internet Business Search is what search engines like Google and Yahoo have created to highlight local business can cost your business nothing and provide broad information about a business.

I recently visited San diego for a meeting. I found El Camino through a Titus Web Site link because I wanted to demo a racer-x. Will Schellenger, the owner, knowing full well that I was unlikely to buy the bike there, all the way ...

It's like getting a full page ad in a phone book and/or a free TV commercial.

You are busy. You are a Real Business with a Store Front. Why should you care about this Internet Stuff? Simply, it is the most effective way in 2009 to bring new customers.

In the U.S. at the end of 2007 there were well over 10 billion unique searches done each month. Of those searches 4 billion have Local intent (42% increase from 2006). Out of all local business searches, 86% of Internet users follow up their search with a phone call or a visit. Of those, 61% end up making a purchase.

Many businesses spend thousands of dollars to build and optimize their websites to get better search results placement. By working with me and free internet tools I provide, you can rapidly start your marketing effort on the internet and deliver a strong internet advertising program, with no monthly cost. I can help you Take a Shortcut to the Front of the Line by leveraging the most powerful advertising tool – Google.

It is cheaper to invest in than the Yellow Pages and provides more information, which translates to a greater probability for a potential customer to contact a business. For a $295.00 onetime cost, I will provide a business:

- A professional Local Business Identity on Google
- Free Web/Blog site that you can maintain
- Monthly reports of activity of who, what and where customers are finding you on the Internet

I have helped all kinds of business, from Doctors to Restaurants. In today's economy everyone need new customers. Developing an identity on the internet should be the 1# priority for any small business advertising effort.
